

WELLBEING FOR RECOVERY

Mandala Living create Australian made, eco friendly cushions that support people recovering from illness or operations. They are also popular with newborn mothers to help with feeding, elderly people, parkinsons patients to support while resting and people on bed rest.

Mandala neck pillows and mini roundie cushions are made with Australian buckwheat hulls which mold to support the body. Infused with lavender for extra relaxation. They have a removable cover and handle for easy carry and care.

Each Mandala item has been individually hand crafted locally in Australia with great care and love.

Take time for yourself, relax and enjoy a Mandala moment.

Testimonial One

I recently had major surgery and took my Mandala Living baby buckwheat neck pillow for the hospital stay. I wasn't aware if I would use under my legs, to support my head and neck or just as a home comfort.

As it turned out, I used it for all of these and I felt so comfortable and supported during my recovery. Thank you Mandala Living this is a wonderful, versatile product and it will be essential packing for anytime I'm away from home.

Testimonial Two

I have advanced Parkinson's Disease and have found the Round Mandala Cushion a life-saver for sleeping.

The cushion wraps itself around my neck like a soft cat.
